

Call for abstracts: Best research projects in oncological care

The Oncology Nursing Academic Society awards prizes for the best research projects completed in the years 2020 - 2022 in oncology care.

Requirements: The prizes will be awarded to research projects in the field of nursing science completed in 2020 / 2021 / 2022. Applicants are asked to submit a project summary (background, objectives, methods, results, conclusions) with a maximum of 4500 characters (including spaces) electronically. Submissions will be evaluated in terms of methodological quality, innovation and relevance to the practice and development of oncology care in Switzerland. A commission of the Academic Society Oncology Nursing awards the prizes.

Prize: Three prizes will be awarded: 1. prize: CHF 1500.-, 2. prize: CHF 1000.-, 3. prize: CHF 500.-. The winners and other selected abstracts will also be invited to a poster presentation of their project at the Annual Congress of Oncology Care Switzerland on March 23, 2023. The abstract of the best research project (1. prize) will be published as Research Flash in an issue of the journal "Swiss Oncology Care" ("Onkologiepflege Schweiz") 2023.

Deadline: Submission deadline for abstracts is January 15, 2023. Submissions can be made in German, French, Italian or English. The decisions of the Scientific Commission will be announced on February 20, 2023.

Award ceremony: The prizes will be awarded at the Annual Congress of Oncology Care Switzerland on March 23, 2023 in Bern.
